THE REQUIRED SYLLABUS

The required syllabus for this course is the Technical Foundation Certification Training materials.

The materials are a required purchase in order to pass and receive WBTF Level I Coaches' Certification. The required training materials will be available for purchase on October 1st.

The Cost: $75 USD for the Technical Foundation Certification Training materials, which include updated videos and valuable resources (this is an optional purchase for certified master judges).

Part of the required training materials was in the original Coaches Level I Training Program package. Updated videos and new additions are presently being added. The package will be available by October 1st. In the meantime, it is off-site. For those who had previously purchased this package: the new updates and additions will be made available to you through your website account where you can download any updated parts of your original purchase. Check the website after October 1st, 2022.

Registration will open for Module 1 on October 1st and Module 2 will open after the first of the year.
